

CALL FOR PAPERS

Original papers, special sessions and/or symposiums are invited on the main topics of the conference, Design Education, Design for Innovation and Design Practices. Within these topics, various themes are encouraged, but papers are not limited to the themes listed below:

- Design Education
 - The Design Curriculum
 - Design Projects and Cases
 - Emerging Design Education Tools and Techniques
 - Evaluation Metrics and Techniques in Design Education
 - Web-Based Education Resources
 - Multi-Disciplinary Design Education
- Design for Innovation
 - Technological Innovation and Creativity
 - Product Design
 - Process Design
 - Adaptable Design
 - Platform and Product Architecture Design
 - Modular Design
 - Life Cycle Issues, Reliability, Serviceability and Disposal/Recycling
 - Sustainable Design and Development
 - Design for X (X=Manufacturing, Construction, Services, Environment, etc)
 - Design for Life, Health and Fitness
 - Design Methodologies, Tools and Techniques
 - Distributed Design Activities and Teams
 - Web-based Design and Collaborative Design and Tools
- Design Practice
 - Engineering, Procurement and Construction Industry
 - Design in Auto Manufacturing Industry
 - Design in Aerospace Industry
 - Design in High-Tech Industry
 - Design in Small and Medium Enterprises
 - Engineering Project Management
 - Design for Sustainability and Environment Practices
 - Professional Development in Engineering Design
 - Current and Future Industrial Practice Trends

SPECIAL EVENTS

Best web-based CDEN-NSERC design modules presentations

- Student design competition
- Special workshops and symposiums

HOST ORGANIZATION

University of Calgary, Calgary, Alberta, Canada

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- An extended abstract of 400 words should be submitted to the CDEN Conference Technical Program Chairs via email to the address by Feb.1, 2005
Tech_review@enme.ucalgary.ca.

IMPORTANT DATES

1. First Announcement and Call for Papers: July 2004
2. One page proposal for special sessions or symposiums due: January 22, 2005
3. Extended abstracts (400 words) submission: January 22, 2005
4. Decision of acceptance: March 1, 2005
5. Final paper on-line submission: April 29, 2005

For more information, please contact Peihua Gu at pgu@ucalgary.ca or visit the web-site: www.cden.ca